DETAILED ACTION

The amendment filed 20 December 2007 is acknowledged and has been entered. Claims 1-17 22, 39, and 40 have been examined on the merits.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 22 and 39 are/stand rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As discussed in the previous Office action (with respect to claims from which claim 22 depends), the extremely ambiguous phrase "or the like" (line 2) is deemed vague and indefinite. This phrase is very unclear as it does not adequately define what is and is not considered "or the like" (for example, in what way would something else read upon "or the like" - e.g., are the recited elements/limitations structurally like other undefined elements/limitations, functionally like other undefined elements/limitations, or something else?). It is strongly suggested that this phrase be removed from the claim language, wherever it appears (as discussed in the previous Office action).

Art Unit: 1655

Claim 39 is somewhat unclear by the grammatically incorrect comma within the phrase "selected from the group of polar organic solvents consisting of triethanolamine, and acetone".

It is suggested that the comma within this phrase be omitted for clarity.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-17, 22, 39, and 40 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 2 of U.S. Patent No. 6,929,808.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both are drawn to a method for isolating amyloid inhibitory compounds/components from Uncaria plant matter via the same or similar process steps.

Art Unit: 1655

Please note that although the Bibliographic data provided by Applicants state that the instant Application is a Divisional Application of US Patent No. 6,929,808, the instantly claimed preparatory method is deemed to reasonably read upon the claimed '808 preparatory method with respect to the obviousness-type double patenting rejection above (i.e., no restriction requirement was made in the parent Application in terms restricting the instantly claimed preparatory method from the preparatory method set forth in the '808 claims).

Conclusion

Claims 1-21 and 40 are allowable (please see Interview Summary attached hereto).

If Applicants are aware of any Patents or copending Patent Applications that reasonably read upon the instantly claimed invention - with respect to potential obviousness-type double patenting rejection(s), it is requested that they be made of record and that Applicants file an appropriate Terminal Disclosure over such patents and/or Applications (to hasten prosecution).
